The automatic Spilker cutting station

The automatic Spilker cutting station

The Spilker Signline is a motor driven stand-alone cutting unit with which individual sheets can be kiss-cut or cut through with any form. Quick format changes are possible any time, thus the Signline is ideal for the preparation of samples, short runs, proofs and zero series.

Your advantages

- Low space requirement
- Individually adjustable
- Flexible to use
- Cutting unit and cutting tool from one source
- Short delivery times

With magnetic cylinders and flexible dies quick changes of format and shape can be realized. Also refitting to rotary tools is possible without any problems.
